“Fear Ye Not Their Fear”

For my brothers and sisters in YHWH's truth,

While being snowbound in a gloomy ol' house on a gloomy, icy day, I thought It'd be a good time to perhaps write some new ways to see a little hope and encouragement for those promoting Father's kingdom. Can you use some?

With each new day that passes, it seems that the world we live in is getting harder and harder to face. Many are also awakening to the fact that the Father is getting really angry at those who won't obey Him in His instruction on how to get along with one another (His Commandments, laws, statutes and judgments), where this "day" that is beginning to emerge, is going to be the most terrifying day of wrath He has ever delivered upon mankind, so please don't kid yourself that anyone will be “raptured away” from this coming punishment, as its going to be a very dark time for all of us, but especially dark for those who are yet thumbing their noses at YHWH's rule over their lives and who have turned the grace of our Savior into licentiousness (a license to sin), themselves being yet in an unconverted rebellion to YHWH's clear and timeless biblical instruction.

Its also pretty clear that we have only seen the tip of the iceberg with YHWH's wrath so far. The time of indecision, imaginary neutral zones, and lukewarm-ness is drawing to a close here my friends. The Father is enraged with those who won't repent of their sins (breaking of His laws; see 1st John 3:4) and who are thereby still partaking in the sins and gratuities (bribes) of a totally corrupt and unclean world.

But remember... He's not out to hurt those who truly love Him and cling to Him in purity and obedience, in fact all Scripture is easily pointing to the fact that He's going to protect those in our time who have had enough of this evil world and who hate how the world has become so undisciplined, materialistic, selfish and filthy, and who have therefore been "coming out from among them" of the world, where such wiser folks are instead firmly standing afar off from the sinful, being as lone voices crying in the wilderness, boldly proclaiming YHWH's true name and preaching His true kingdom [government] of righteousness in these last days. So no, the faithful have little to fear, as the lightning bolts won't be striking anywhere near where they are standing. On the contrary, Father is focused on punishing those who have been encouraging and praising man's ways of instruction instead of His ways (which is clear idolatry). So His wrath is going to start with His 'cheating' church, being the many unfaithful in their plush churches who found it less risky, more 'comfy', or maybe even just more convenient to sign on with the world and all it's opposing rules and provisions, where He's going to punish this church worse than ever before for not peaceably standing with the more serious of us who've instead been humbly but courageously shining the light of truth on their beast church/state machinery. And when He has made an end of punishing the lukewarm and the hypocrites, he's then going to destroy all those, great or small, who stood in all the various positions that made up and/or profited from the evil beast system itself, which is modern-day Babylon!

So it will be all of "beast-following" mankind who "would not that [YHWH] should reign over them" (ref. Luke 19:27) who have no hope now, and who then understandably yes, have a lot more to fear than we do regarding what is coming, as they have basically deceived themselves into their own rebellious condition, painting themselves into such a serious moral and spiritual corner that they themselves are too afraid to turn back now, their sins of pride and covetousness also keeping them from getting out of the satanic snare they are now trapped in:

"The sinners [breakers of YHWH's law] in Zion [meaning those who call themselves believers or "Christians"] are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who among us shall dwell with everlasting fire [YHWH's eternal judgment]?"

But the very next line comforts those like you and I who have (as good children) matured and have wisely begun to step away from the beast's many wicked temptations:

"He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppression, that shaketh his hands from the holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil; He shall dwell on high: his place of defense shall be the munitions of rocks: bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure." (Isaiah 3:14-16)

If we are obeying the Father and trusting in Him (and in Him alone! Meaning even His promised provisions for us), there should not be a single thing for us to fear but our own occasional individual chastening (which we usually need from time to time anyway and is often very mild).

Those who are in Father's Spirit with all blamelessness should have nothing to fear from what is otherwise about to hit the lukewarm and heathen (via man's coming battles for power). Fear of man is not of those who truly love and trust the Father, but of those 'walking dead' who are ashamed of Him, afraid to preach the truth of His kingdom [His authority over man]:

"Yeshua (Jesus) said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom [authority; government] of God." (Luke 9:60)

"Deal Courageously and the LORD shall be with the good." (II Chronicles 19:11)

"There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love." (1 John 4:18)

"The fearful ... shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone." (Revelation 21:8)

Fear of man is the opposite of faith in YHWH (see article "Faith Conquers Fear"). We who would ourselves be unashamedly "marked" that we have chosen YHWH over satan's world, are being called to "come out from among them" of the world and thereby purify ourselves before we approach Him in this most serious moment of man's need of rescue!

This reform to purity is meant especially for those who claim to be shepherds of our flocks! (See Ez. 9:6, and also of course this one: "For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel [good news of Father's plan that brings the peace] of God?" (1Peter 4:17)

Similarly, are we ourselves endorsing preachers who won't even talk about today's most serious issues, especially those most urgent of issues that would help a remnant realize that they must get back to YHWH's law system and none other?

Are we assembling with such willfully ignorant shepherds? If so, are we not voluntarily bound to them (Deu 15:15-17)?

In encouraging their willful irresponsibility (James 4:17), we will most certainly share in their coming punishment, as both preacher and parishioner are then appeasing and (in many ways) even blessing caesar's church/state system as provider, caregiver, lawgiver, etc, thus sitting in the most serious sin of idolatry! (see article: "Clinging to the mark we have chosen".) Are we not, in just submissively worshipping with them rather than going in to these assemblies with the intent to speak boldly about the truth as Paul and the Apostles had done (preaching reform and repentance as our great commission calls us to do), are we not thereby acting just as Jonah had done, and running from YHWH's call to rebuke sin, and instead encouraging such preachers and that church to simply stay in their carnal state, ourselves then becoming a willful party to their sin? We are commanded to not be "unequally yoked".

Ask yourself some of these questions: Is Caesar "equally" worshipping the same god as we are? How about preachers who might be technically Caesar worshippers? If they are singing the praises of America's Constitution without shame, as if it were their hope to get them and their flock out of this mess (their savior), are they not bowing down to Caesar and his laws, statutes and judgments, rather than the Father's? and/or... are they unashamed card-carrying "members" of Caesar's system, having sold their biblical birthrights for helpings of satan's many "beast" varieties of pottage? On any count, they are all defending not the Father's kingdom and His system of law and order, but caesar's—the system that is in opposition to the Father's, themselves foolishly keeping Father's perfect and protective kingdom from ever being sent to help us. But they call themselves Christians as they go back week after week, to gather with those in and of the world, as a whoremonger hides how he returns to a mistress. Those that run to the large physical gatherings, rather than yearn for the spiritual fellowship of those last few who are yet standing in the wholesomeness of YHWH, risk being at enmity with YHWH as is explained so well in Romans 8:4-17. They feel safe in their popular churches, but seeking friendship with the multitudes in a compromising world is not a good idea right now:

“know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.” (James 4:4)

Admitting that he needs to reform his church is the very thing that the fearful preacher is hoping to avoid, as he too, is afraid of losing all of his “friends” of the world and all the securities they bring to him. He then seeks to appease (tickle the ears of) all he can find that will compromise in the things that he is compromising in as well, making “round-the-barn” excuses that make little sense in trying to cover his dereliction of duty in not being willing to speak imperatively of these deeper issues, serious issues that, if thought through properly, would clearly reveal who should be governing such a preacher and his flock and why, where once reformed and followed, brings joy to the whole congregation. But most congregations are just as guilty as these weakened preachers, as they have searched out these “close enough” preachers that seem to be telling enough of the truth without going to the areas that they fear they may have to deal with, thus they have yes, “heaped to themselves teachers, having itching ears”, wanting to hear the same “smooth things” (see Isaiah 30:10; “preach to us smooth things”) that the weaker preachers want to preach anyway.

But discussing the serious issues of the day is what helps us to understand and thereby recognize the fruits of the evil masters that we need to know the truth about—masters that sadly, many of our preachers have had their ears nailed to the doors of, and therefore have gathered around them a flock that is also fearfully and willingly following this evil beast along with them, like moths to a flame, everyone following the multitudes, seeking safety in numbers; comfort in numbers.

“Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil.” (Exodus 23:2)

Enter ye in at the straight gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:” (Matthew 7:13)

If millions are compromising with man’s laws in a giant multi-denominational Caesar-blessed church system, and Father’s wrath is still coming, and not just coming, but coming with more and more ferocity as each day arrives, despite millions upon millions who, according to their own multitudinous consensus saying that they all agree that they feel they are safe in their compromises... does that not tell you that perhaps something is still wrong? Is truth the product of consensus? Did the people of Noah’s time have a similar majority consensus that they too were safe from a coming wrath as well? Is it possible that they were a little too overconfident in their time just as we are?

Can there really be that many people who are walking in the same levels of closeness as Noah had walked? Why would the Father be angrier than ever before with a world where there are still thousands upon thousands (if not millions) that were still following Him correctly? That wouldn’t make sense, nor is it like the Father to not patiently wait till the last few are the only ones left. Did not the Father lovingly wait till His true remnant was down to just Noah and His family before giving up on the world the last time? And even in the localized wrath of Lot’s time, was it not Abraham who, in begging the Father not to destroy Sodom and Gomorrah, had wisely decided to stop pleading with the Father when he got down to “ten righteous souls"? Can we not see that in this day we are in now (being the great day of YHWH), that there would be a similar patience of the Father with man, waiting till a very small number of true believers was left?

My dear friends, look not to be warmed by the fires of the luke-warm that can leave you out in the cold, but seek the Father's warmest love, graces and comfort instead, and simply "come out from among them and be separate" from that world.

This message from Father's Scriptures for us today of separation from the compromised of the world is a most serious warning my friends, but specifically in our time it is a last loving warning, where we should hope that we might be found worthy to receive His ultimate love and comfort in these times ahead. Revelation 18:4 is a loud message, a very loud message, and loud for our generation especially, as it is sent as one last plea before His anger must put forth the final decree of Revelation 22:11 where the wrath then comes down hard and fast on those who followed the crowd and its comforts, rather than stand with the pure of heart, where we shall see "men's hearts failing them for fear" (Luke 21:26) among those who had felt that YHWH was not very serious about us being undefiled ambassadors of His system of law, order, and provision... and that system only!

Perhaps its time to revisit this video from some years ago. Its got a 'groovy' clip from the sixties (and only four minutes long): "You can't erase God with an edict"

There is still time to get on the Father's side of safety with those who will be "hid in the day of YHWH's anger" my friends (ref. Zephaniah 2:3)

"Fear ye not their fear"!

"But fear not thou, O my servant Jacob, and be not dismayed, O Israel: for behold, I will save thee from afar off, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and be in rest and at ease, and none shall make him afraid." (Jeremiah 46:27)

"Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, saith YHWH: for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand." (Jer. 42:11)

Don't let anyone scare you and rob you of your eternal reward. Because no matter how gloomy things might look at any given moment, there's nothing that the evil side can do to you that YHWH Himself will not let happen to you, that is, so long as you really are walking in His will for your life with a clean conscience!

The Father is not only about to send the greatest wrath upon man that man has ever seen, but He is also readying to protect those who are blamelessly His, covering His most beloved ones so that we won't be punished along with those He is genuinely angry with!

But now think on this one if you want Father's greatest comfort:

As a young teenager, and when nuclear war was a huge hyped-up fear, I had a wise old preacher tell me one or two of these basic things that I just shared with you folks above, where he then added something like this, "Son, the Father truly does comfort those that genuinely love Him. If you haven't given Him your all and aren't truly helping Him to spread that same comforting gospel of hope to others, and are still afraid, it'll be your own fault, not His. We should all be working together, gathering and comforting one another to heed His instruction for our world, offering to everybody we meet, the hope that lies within us of God's perfect plan for mankind. If, as we learn, we aren't doing all that we can in helping to share with others, the beauty of what we know about how God's system brings comfort and hope, then why should He share any more of that same wisdom and comforting hope of His with us?"

—that simple lesson made me think pretty hard where it made increasing sense to me, and even more so today, especially now that this wicked world has gotten so much worse, giving me a much greater appreciation about what salvation really means as well, how we get the "Great Comforter", etc, where it also means the salvation or 'rescue' we yearn for from an evil world system—a system that has taught us (and also through various forms of intimidation and fear by the way) to very thoroughly ignore the Father's system of law, order, justice, and provision. Which is perhaps what we seem to have been put here to get a good taste of ourselves, to learn to deal with our innermost fears first hand (and... on our own), where we'd then yes, get a strong understanding of the real need for His "salvation", itself being a true rescue from all who hate YHWH's grace-offered plan for world peace.

This life we are in is purposed to then rightfully test what we love, our faith, courage, etc, in then realizing how important it is to fulfill our great commission duties to contribute towards advancing Father's system of law and order. We're not to just "roll with the flow" of the worsening heathen law systems due to fear. True believers are called to preach the whole Gospel, including Father's authority and rule over us, where our love for others should override our fears to then properly stand for what is right. Doesn't that make sense? Fear is not just the opposite of faith but it is also the opposite of love!

Well, for those of you who have not been able to attend our live Bible studies (that have been somewhat touching on this topic), perhaps this writing will help you to some degree.

One might also find the Book of Zephaniah to be very comforting as a guide of what we should see coming for those of us who “trust in the name of YHWH”, as it’s a very short three chapters that easily shows the prophecy picture that the beast churches aren’t teaching, a picture that points to a very comfortable transition for the truly faithful, while the lost and lukewarm are going to suffer tremendously (and most especially in having no comforts for their fear). But if you’d like to hear more of what the mainstream (globally-controlled churches) won’t tell you regarding prophecy, the inspiring book “Last Call” (on this webpage), should give a good bit of hope for beginners who already love all of the Father and His Son as well.

Hang in there my friends! Be of good courage!

Blessings to all who truly love His ways that bring peace,

dwaine
