

What would you die for?

Would you die for a piece of candy? How about for a shiny new car or a passionate weekend fling with someone you hardly know?

Well, most of you are doing just that. Most of you have made many such hasty contracts with death, but have crossed your fingers and have thereby merely deferred payment for a later time that you hope will never come, that's all.

Is it wise to chase after the material pleasures of the flesh? Or should we be chasing after the answers to the greatest questions known to mankind to properly preserve our precious lives?

Are we passionate about collecting things of wealth and surrounding ourselves with artifacts that decorate our homes and improper pleasures that bloat our lusts for more and more? Or, are we passionate about finding the answers as to why we are here and where we are going when we leave here, and so forth?

The elitist slavemasters have you conditioned and programmed to slave after “the here and now”, as they don't want you to know about the hereafter and the One that can stop their theft of your “here and now” sweat equity, because they too, are chasing after “the here and now” as well, but with such a passion that they are even lying to you about why we are here, doing so to get your “here and now” treasures for their treasure chests.

Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

(Matthew 6:19-21)

seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.

(Matthew 6:33)

We are praying that like us, you are tired of being lied to, and will seek what we have found. The more truth you understand, the less you will fear—its really that simple with God's truth. If your church is trembling over what is happening in the world, they haven't found that truth. Wake up your church with the inner peace that we have found in these terrifying times at:

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

—John 15:13
