

“Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven”

That passage is a wonderfully hopeful thought to those of us who more accurately understand its deeper meaning. This writing will lightly touch on that deeper meaning, but first consider this initial thought:

The heavenly Father’s promise of world authority for the seriously obedient remnant came very early on in man’s relationship with Him...

“And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the LORD thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth.” Deu 28:1

Can mankind ever want such peace and freedom bad enough to admit that their own sins are the problem? Can Joe Average let go of his cigarettes and whiskey, or Nancy Neighbor let go of her lust for new material possessions?

This is the real problem, as its not just the global bankers, the pretend “vicars of Christ on earth”, but ALL of mankind needs to stop trying to pretend that they know better than YHWH when it comes to knowing what is good for us.

Please keep this part in mind as we proceed.

In Isaiah, we find that this dedicated Prophet understood it well:

“With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.” Isaiah 26:9

But as Isaiah had hinted, when will those judgments be “on the earth” for this to happen? Are those ‘judgments’ coming to pass as we speak?

Well, a few know that even if the judgment is almost fully in place, no mass-awakening repentance will happen till something absolutely “earth-shattering” takes place to cause the disobedient to think harder, agreed?

But Again,
Are we paying attention to these growing warnings?

Just like an inattentive child will generate a stronger and stronger “selective hearing” skill when a nagging mother repeatedly asks him to clean up his room, take a bath, etc, so too have YHWH’s spoiled children on earth learned to block out the more serious instructions that are “good for us” from our Father.

We are in a time that is absolutely unparalleled in history in its levels of complexity and terrors, and yet stubborn man still doesn't want to "clean up his room" or "take a bath" to have these terrors removed. He considers his own levels of un-cleanliness to be but an insignificant contribution to the world's messy condition.

So rather than heed the call of a loving Father whereby we might be rewarded with the power to even turn around and rule over these evil overlords with TRUE law and justice, we continue to lie in our own excrement of sin and wonder why Father is not helping us.

Some have wanted to ignore the Father's instructions so badly, that they have even learned to block out those messages altogether, by believing the lie that evolution scientifically negates that nagging voice, even though true science blows the theory of neo-Darwinism out of the water like a duck sitting on a raft fashioned of dynamite sticks.

When will mankind learn? ...only when he is absolutely at the brink of un-ignorable annihilation perhaps, or maybe even never (as the people in Noah's day have proven).

Nonetheless, the story is the same: "Clean up your room and you can (be free to) go out and play". This, while Johnny and Sally yet refuse to lift a finger to do anything but pretend that they never heard a word, and continue grumbling and playing with their toys.

The irresponsible will be sent to the second death, the "lake of fire". Those very very few of us who are standing as far away as our wiser hearts can take us from those spoiled children, are waiting on the Father, not wanting to share in the spanking. We want nothing but to glorify our Father, and to share in the bounty of His loving-kindness and mercy when this separating of the wheat from the chaff is all over. How about You?

These are the discussions we are having on a larger scale and in more depth, regarding the "perfect law of liberty" that YHWH has generously given the whole world, a system that only one tiny remnant of "diligent" are yet trying to advance, and therefore patiently waiting for. While the 501c3 churches are dazzling their "audiences" with entertaining stories of Catholic-flavored "fly away" raptures, etc, (for the kids who won't clean up their rooms) we are keeping a good distance from them and studying hard to make sure that we are showing the Father that we love Him and His truth far more than our worldly lusts and possessions, and thereby embrace and respect His discipline, where the psalmist wrote: "Thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me". The shepherd's rod and staff were the tools of reprimand when the sheep got too far out of line from the shepherd. A true shepherd will "raise them up in the way that they should go", that, when they get older, they would not depart far from such discipline, Amen?

So now let's get back to our passage and understand what it means: "Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven"

What does "will" mean, as in "thy will" above?

Understanding that "will" is a very exhaustively defined word in the Webster's 1828 dictionary, I think this simple segment (from Noah Webster himself) is a perfect example and certainly fits our passage without the slightest disagreement:

4. Command; direction.

Our prayers should be according to the will of God.

Does that not make sense? If we are following YHWH's "will" its His "instruction" or "direction" to us as His heirs or "children" as well. We are therefore to follow or obey that "will" if He is truly to be respected, Amen?. But to continue...

How about the part... "on earth as it is in heaven?" Remember also, that this line is from the Messiah Himself in the way He taught us to pray. It is a part of what is commonly known as "the Lord's prayer". Are we not then to hope, expect, and even 'work towards it' (let alone pray) that "His will be done" on earth? ...just as it surely is in heaven?

Let's put this together with more of the passage now, as taken from the King James:

"After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven."

(Matthew 6:9-10)

Hallowed be thy NAME. Do we use His true name? ...or just something generic like "God"? How do the heathen know who we respect if we simply use the same terminology they use for their "god" or "gods"?

Notice that it then also says, "Thy kingdom come". Do we pray for His kingdom to come... (and here's the clincher...) ...on earth as it is in heaven? Are we seeking His law and guidance system here on earth? I think the very early Puritans were, but how about us? Were we bedazzled into too many secularist ways as we got prosperous? ...and was that allowed "neutrality" created in sympathy for the heathen? ...or for us?

Think deeply about that brothers and sisters. Where we must then ask ourselves....

Are we taking baths and cleaning up our rooms to make ourselves (and thereby our ambassadorship under YHWH) more "presentable" to the world in order that they might also "want" some of this pristine purity of Father's better plan for us?

In our Sabbath book (Remember the Sabbath Day to Keep It Holy...") the Bible also emphasizes the seriousness of getting back to the Father's Sabbath instruction and calendar as well, where the following verse has a promise for us in our generation's time much like the promise in the beginning of our article:

"Then shalt thou delight thyself in the LORD; and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it." Isaiah 58:14

In summary, what hope should true believers be focusing on then?

"Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand (the obedient and faithful), Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world."

(Mat 25:34, insert, emphasis mine)

Think about it my friends: What is the LAST thing that the NWO wants to see happen right now "on the earth"?think hard on this. The fable about a secret "snatch away" rapture is not in the Bible. Consider Daniel 2:34,35 with the depths of your hearts my brethren.

Blessings to all of my freinds who are "enduring to the end" in purity,
