

Who will be found as YHWH's true people?

1 message

Dwaine <dwaine@bcmin.us>

Sat, May 1, 2021 at 10:08 AM

To: Dwaine <dwaine@bcmin.us>

With the knowledge that is now almost unavoidably available, that many through their fearful wilful ignorance are ashamed to face and thereby even perhaps blocking out of their minds, I offer some parallels:

-Those in the various A.M.A. sorcery professions who are judging or even classifying people according to elitist C-19 guidelines are no different than the people who were at detention centers classifying people for the camps in Nazi Germany.

-Those who are administering the "vaccinations", etc, are no different than those who were turning the gas valves at Auschwitz.

-Those who are wearing masks in public while knowing they are marks of obedience only, are helping to convince others that there must be a true consensus of this scary science, thus only encouraging the intellectually less fortunate to then decide to accept these deadly shots.

-Those who are not shouting YHWH's governance solutions as exemplary witnesses from the housetops, have no real love for others as will be expected by their God and Savior when they meet this Great Judge; for in all these examples, much blood will be on the hands of those who could have stood for truth and did not.

The question then becomes:

Which souls most deserve what is yet coming? Those who were truly ignorant out of innocence of the knowledge of YHWH's truth, never having had it unashamedly preached to them? ...or those who were knowledgably aiding in the purpose of this planned mass ignorance by holding such life-saving information back due to fear of Caesar's retaliation and/or rejection of their neighbors?